FARMLAND & STEWARDSHIP SPECIALIST

Founded in 1984, the mission of the Adirondack Land Trust is to forever conserve the forests, farmlands, waters and wild places that advance the quality of life of our communities and the ecological integrity of the Adirondacks. Through private initiative, community cooperation and a deep connection to the land, the Adirondack Land Trust has protected 26,710 acres since 1984. We currently oversee 16,134 acres under conservation easement, and we own 1,565 acres in fee. ALT received Land Trust Alliance (LTA) accreditation in 2019.

POSITION SUMMARY

Adirondack Land Trust (ALT) seeks a creative, collaborative, and experienced individual to implement farmland conservation programs, manage stewardship of farmland easements, and work with other ALT staff to further ALT's goals of ensuring the sustainability of the agricultural systems of the Adirondacks. The Farmland & Stewardship Specialist will be responsible for providing overall farmland conservation and stewardship expertise for ALT throughout our service area. The majority of this work will be centered in NY's Champlain Valley, where they will work with producers, landowners and partners to achieve lasting conservation results for the land and the communities there.

In addition, the Farmland & Stewardship Specialist will work closely with the conservation team to complete stewardship responsibilities, engage in landowner outreach, serve as ALT's farmland conservation lead, represent ALT to key constituencies, help identify and evaluate project opportunities, and build collaborative partnerships. They will work from ALT's main office in Keene where all staff are required to be vaccinated against COVID-19.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

Farmland Conservation

- Serve as ALT's lead staff person for farmland conservation and sustainability to assist landowners, inform ALT conservation activities, and collaborate with partners.
- Apply skills and knowledge of agricultural programs and practices to conservation easement stewardship, land protection project development, and community conservation.

Conservation Easement Stewardship

- Responsible for annual monitoring of farmland conservation easements to ensure compliance with the easements' terms, ALT policies and Land Trust Alliance Standards and Practices.
- Maintain regular contact with landowners, producers, land managers, and partners of conservation easement properties to ensure positive relationships, promote conservation practices, and avoid potential easement conflicts.
- Maintain and update ALT's conservation easement digital and paper records consistent with ALT policies and Land Trust Alliance Standards and Practices.

Partner and Community Outreach

- Strengthen existing and develop new partnerships to further ALT's farmland conservation programs with organizations such as the Farm Bureau, Cornell Cooperative Extension, Essex Farm Institute, Miner Institute, NYS Dept. of Agriculture and Markets, Natural Resource Conservation Service and County Soil and Water Districts.
- Work with ALT staff to expand public field trips, education, and outreach programs throughout the Adirondacks to serve communities and engage diverse audiences.

Conservation Program Support

- Assist the conservation team to identify and evaluate ALT's farmland conservation priorities.
- Assist in implementing a variety of agricultural land protection tools such as conservation easements, ground leases, preemptive purchase rights, and lease to own.
- Assist ALT staff in identifying, applying for, and managing farmland conservation grants as appropriate.

QUALIFICATIONS

Basic

- A passion for conservation and a commitment to the mission, values, and vision of the Adirondack Land Trust.
- Excellent written and verbal communication, listening and conflict resolution skills.
- Experience working effectively both independently and as a member of a team.
- Working knowledge of sustainable farmland conservation practices.
- Experience reading and interpreting legal and/or technical documents
- Strong organizational skills and attention to detail to manage complex projects, maintain accurate paper and digital project files, oversee contractor contracts, and ensure compliance with grant deliverables.
- Valid driver's license and reliable, all-season transportation for work-related travel throughout northern NY.
- Ability to work outdoors, sometimes in inclement weather, and navigate by foot over rough terrain.
- Ability to work in an office setting and interact with supporters, volunteers, and board members.

Preferred

- Bachelor's Degree or equivalent professional training with 3-5 years' experience in natural resource management, agriculture, farmland conservation, community conservation or a related field.
- Experience with conservation easement drafting, monitoring and enforcement.
- Proficiency with ESRI ArcGIS and ability to learn ALT's land conservation database software LANDSCAPE.
