OFFICE ADMINISTRATOR

The mission of the Adirondack Land Trust (ALT) is to forever conserve the forests, farmlands, waters and wild places that advance the quality of life of our communities and the ecological integrity of the Adirondacks. ALT's program area includes nearly 7 million acres in the Adirondack Park and northern New York. Through private initiative, community cooperation and a deep connection to the land, the Adirondack Land Trust has protected 26,710 acres since its founding in 1984. We currently oversee 16,134 acres under conservation easement, and own 1,565 acres of public preserves and conservation lands. ALT received its accreditation from the Land Trust Accreditation Commission in 2019, reflecting a commitment to sound finances, ethical conduct, responsible governance, and lasting stewardship.
